

MONDAYS

with Mike

Valentine's Day ~ Lessons in Love and Leadership

As we celebrate Valentine's Day, it would be easy to simply share thoughts about love between two individuals. While this is certainly part of the celebration on this day, I thought it would be neat to reflect upon how love and leadership can share the stage at all times.

So, enjoy the reflections and enjoy their application beyond just today!

Being deeply loved by someone gives you strength, while loving someone deeply gives your courage. Lao Tzu – Chinese Philosopher

No one has ever measured, not even poets, how much the heart can hold. Zelda Fitzgerald – American Novelist

The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or even touched – they must be felt with the heart. Helen Keller - American author, and activist

Love doesn't make the world go round. Love is what makes the ride worthwhile. Franklin P. Jones - American Humorist

The heart has its reasons of which reason knows nothing. Blaise Pascal - French Mathematician

Love does not consist of gazing at each other but in looking outward together in the same direction. Antoine de Saint-Exupéry - French Writer

Love recognizes no barriers. It jumps hurdles, leaps fences, penetrates walls to arrive at its destination full of hope. Maya Angelou - American poet

Happy Valentine's Day and all the best as you let love guide your leadership!

Have a great week!